ROLLINS DAY BY DAY

We would like to begin our column with some cheerful greeting as our fellow columnist of the Morning Sentinel does his. As yet we haven't decided whether Good-morning, Good-afternoon, or Good-evening is the most appropriate.

No slam at you Chief, nor the circulation department.

The Chief suggested the column be devoted to spreading good cheer and Christmas spirit. Honest Ingun, there's nothing tougher than writing nonsense with seventy-'leven exams over-shadowing any job in the offing.

One of our friends "in the Know" claims that the only good cheer he met in his wanderings was corked up in labeled bottles.

Hope those hard-hearted profs. who take fiendish delight in "giving us the works" get their's in the form of Christmas neckwear.

The week has been featured by: actual study, books carried to and from classes, visits to the library, whispered conferences, etc. Reminds one of the 'old fashioned' one hour system exams, doesn't it?

Here's our philosophic definition of Christmas shopping: "Christmas shopping is merely the period that precedes Christmas swapping."

So many people have expressed concern about how we're going to spend our Yuletide vacation. Rather than disappoint them with the truth we're going to tell 'em how we would like to enjoy it.

Our ideal Christmas is a trip to Mimini or Cuba, topped off with a New Year's celebration in some New York night club.

Now if Bimini wasn't such a long swim here's one guy that would have his mail sent there for the next three weeks.

If you've read through all this bunk you deserve to be wished a Merry Christmas and a joy*full* New Year.

Burhans To Replace Abbott As Associate Tomokan Editor

The Tomokan editor wishes to announce the appointment of Bob Burhans as associate editor. Frank Abbott, formerly appointed to this position, has asked to be relieved of this office because of his heavy course and outside work. We are sorry to lose Abbott but we feel that his place could not have been filled by a better man than Burhans. Bob has certainly earned his honor by his record at Rollins. He is now president of the Student Association, one of the highest honors at Rollins.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION WORK IS INCREASING

The number of University Extension courses given by Rollins in cooperation with the University of Florida, under the direction of Dr. T. B. Bailey, has increased to five. Jacksonville, Tampa, Tarpon Springs, DeLand and Daytona Beach are now visited by Dr. Bailey once each week. More than 175 adults are in attendance.

The course given is in the psychology of character and is not being given anywhere else in the same manner in which it is being presented by Dr. Bailey. It is not only a psychology of mental processes, but a psychology of spiritual values.

This course carries with it three semester credits, good at Rollins, the University of Florida, or any other standard college or university. While many taking the course are social workers, juvenile court workers, and teachers, who care only for the lectures and discussion, there are those who expect to return to college for further study and who are glad to secure the credit.

The conference plan is used as the method of instruction. The first hour of the two-hour session is devoted to lecture, new material. The second is spent in answering questions and in pertinent discussion. Those getting credit recite each week

W.A.A. To Stage Annual Kid Party Tonight

Members of W. A. A. held their second annual kid party at the gymnasium, Friday evening from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock. A present was found on the tree for each youngster who Santa thought good enough. Games and songs were the features of the evening.

The new members, Clemintine Hall, Katherine Hill, Virginia Ralston and Philis Walter, were assisted by Harriet Pipkorn in planning the affair. The kids trouped home at 9:30 to the tune of "Goodbye—hope you have the best Christmas ever!"

Hearers Delighted With Symphony Debut Program

On Sunday, December 9th, the Winter Park Symphony Orchestra played to a very interesting audience in the Gym, the program of which was printed in the last issue of the Sandspur.

Mounted on platforms especially built for the purpose, the orchestra's personnel made a pleasing appearance.

Under the able baton and fascinating personality of Prof. Nice none could expect a better interpretation. All numbers were well received, and especially was this true of the "Fantasia" from "Hansel and Gretel" opera of Humpberdinck.

FUTURE DIPLOMATS HOLD MEETING AND BANQUET

The first meeting of the season of the International Club was held last Wednesday, December 5th, at the Commons. This was a great success, and it was found that a meal seems to be the way to everyone's heart, so diplomatically pleasant International relations were established. It was later decided that we keep up such diplomacy.

This year Prof. Moore has taken over Prof. Jenks' duties as faculty adviser, and the club has decided to take over the old form of only a program committee of three with a social and corresponding secretary. The program committee includes Earnest Upmeyer, Ilio Gianturco, and Rodney Leyman. The social secretary is Lewella Lyle and corresponding secretary, Mary Janet Traill.

The meeting proper opened at 7:30 with a talk by Earnest Upmeyer on Coolidge's Armistice Day Speech, followed by a supplementary one by Ann Lupton on Europe's Reactions toward the speech. A very interesting, general discussion followed, especially as we had our foreign visitors to give us a true European viewpoint.

Hopes are soaring high and if the first meeting is an example of the future the club will be a true success.

Hoopsters Show Promise Of Having Snappy Quintet

Coach Jim Bailey promises to demonstrate why he has the right to be such a confirmed optimist, when the varsity basket quintet trots out on Recreation Hall floor in their new bright-gold uniforms for the home bow.

Barring upsets the Blue and Gold will put the strongest S. I. A. A. team in the state on the court and the above statement means it should be the best that ever represented Rollins.

Buddy Goodell, ever a source of worry to opposing guards, is beginning to hit his stride. The diminutive Tar forward is rapidly developing his uncanny basket-eye. With a little practice Long Dave Schnuck will be ready to outjump all rival centers. Rashid and Roe Pickard have already developed a stonewall defense guaranteed to break up

Evens-Odds Deadlocked In Race For Top Honors

Basketball interest reached a height when the evens won their first game on Thursday afternoon, December 6, by the score of 10-5. Both teams were evenly matched.

The floor was slippery but did not slow up the game, which was fast. Stella Lane, Clem Hall, F. Arnold, and S. Dickinson stood out in their playing.

LITTLE THEATRE REVIVAL PLAYS MAKE BIG HIT

The Little Theater Workshop again justified its existence, when, on Friday evening, it presented a revival of three plays, "The Flattering Word," by George Kelly; "Everybody's Husband" by Gilbert Cannan, and "The Yellow Triangle" by George Sutton. To these was added J. M. Barrie's "Rosalind", charmingly done by Dorothea Thomas, Ernest Zoller and Elsie Braun.

The Workshop audience is so accustomed to prompt curtains, the absence of long intervals, and to fluency of lines, that it is apt to take these things for granted without realizing the hard, painstaking work required to attain these results.

Of the three revivals, "The Yellow Triangle" seemed to be the favorite with the audience. The theme gives scope for strong acting, Frank Abbott submerged himself in the trader, Henderson, and his aides produced a very convincing atmosphere of Africa.

"Everybody's Husband" was well presented — Eleanor Pressey and Mary Hall showing finished work.

In "The Flattering Word," the comedy parts of Mrs. Zooker and her daughter, Lena, represented by Jane Folsom and Jane Mathewson have to be carefully done and should be restrained, otherwise the real theme of the play is lost sight of, Joe Jones with his usual felicity saved the situation and brought into relief the parts of Louise Howes and Colfax Sanderson.

The sustained interest of the audience is a testimony to the good work of the Little Theater Workshop. HANNAH GARTLAND.

Odd Team Comes Into Own When Evens Are Defeated

Surprising all basketball dopesters, the odds won the second game with the evens by the score of 9 to 4, on Monday evening, December 10. One more game and the championship is over.

Frances Arnold, always a consistant player, kept the spectators on their toes. Burdett made the only score for the Evens, who seemed to have difficulty in finding the basket.

The line-up was:

Odd		Even
Morton	r.f.	Quick
Hill	l.f.	Burdet
LoBean		Carr
Wilder	c.	Wilson
Dickinson	s.c.	Beach
		Arnold
Fisher	r.g.	Chapman

The line-up was:

Evens		Odds
R. Quick	l.f.	E. Morton
H. Carr	r.f.	K. Hill

The Sandspur

Established in 1894 with the following editorial: "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

Christmas Carol

When Christ was born of
Mary free
In Bethlehem in that
Fair citie,
Angels sungen with
Mirth and glee,
In Excelsis Gloria!

Herdsmen beheld, these angels bright
To them appeared with great light,
And said, God's son is born this night,
In Excelsis Gloria!

This King is comen to save kind
Even in Scripture as we find,
Therefore this song have we in mind,
In Excelsis Gloria!

Then, dear Lord, for Thy great grace
Grant us in bliss to see Thy face,
Where we may sing to Thee solace
In Excelsis Gloria!

STUDENTS TAKE SELF-MADE EXAMINATIONS

This week students in Mr. Wattles classes have been standing their examinations in Journalism. Each member of the class chose some daily newspaper to study, and prepare a 30-minute speech. Ten copies of each publication were used in the research work. This enabled students to get a fairly accurate idea of the paper. Make-up, policy, pictures, cuts, advertising, comic strips and many other subjects were discussed at length.

Along with this oral report each journalist was required to make five discussion questions which he was to spend two hours answering. Naturally the student asks himself questions which are not quite clear in his mind and in order to answer them properly he must do some practical studying.

TWELVE NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED BY R. L. S.

The Rollins Literary Society welcomed twelve new members to its ranks at the meeting held last Friday evening, December 6. They are: Helen Morrow, Virginia Lawrence, Ione Pope, Mary Veasey, Luella Lyle, Martha Schanck, Viola Wilson, Lois Walker, Eleanor Krouse, Carolyn Heine, Katherine Kimball, and Nancy Brown.

Each of the new members gave a five-minute talk on literary subjects of their own choosing. These included the reading of many poems, parts of essays, and even love letters. The variety of literature represented indicated the variety of tastes of the new members. This fresh timber should prove a great stimulate to R. L. S. and should guarantee a lively series of meetings for 1929.

CONSERVATORY

Miss Helen Moore of the Conservatory faculty gave a piano recital in the Congregational church, Thursday, December 6, at eight-fifteen. A large and enthusiastic audience was present.

Miss Moore revealed a versatile talent, as she played music of the classic, romantic, and modern schools equally well.

Her tone was particularly lovely in passage work in the upper register.

The playing of the Chopin "Sonata in B Minor" was the climax of the evening. The first movement was powerful, and the finale was thrilling.

The Bach "Partita" was interesting with its charming dances.

Ravel's colorful composition "The Fountain" struck a still different note. It illustrates the harmonic flavor characteristic of the Debussy school.

At the close of the program Miss Moore added an "Intermezzo" of Brahams and a "Melody" by Gluck.

The program was as follows:

Partita in B Minor ..... Bach
Sonata in B minor ..... Chopin
Edward Ballade ..... Brahams
The Fountain ..... Ravel
In Old Vienna ..... Godowsky
Hungarian Rhapsody No. 8 ..... Liszt

Last Wednesday the Rollins Student Trio made its initial appearance before the students on an assembly program sponsored by the college conservatory. Director Nice, of the Rollins Conservatory, introduced the students composing the trio: Mary Boyer, violin; Grace Cardwell, cello; Frances Vallette, piano.

Two selections were rendered by the Student Trio. They were "Cantilena Amoroso" by Lemont and "Minuet" by Bizet.

Lucille Waters played two piano solos after a proposal by Professor Nice, to postpone that part of the program in order not to infringe upon the student's short free-period following assembly, had been rejected by the students who applauded long. The piano solos were, "Prelude" by Seviabin and "Improvisation" by MacDowell.

K. E. KOMMENTS

Kappa Epsilon takes pleasure in announcing as honorary members, Dr. Helen Cole, and Miss Sylvia and Miss Constance Holt.

Hail, hail, the gang's all here around the fireplace these nights!

During Christmas Penelope and Virginia Stelle and Mrs. Enwright will be staying down at Dr. Cole's house. Helen and Betty Zone are Alabama bound, Cam is planning to travel with her family, Evelyn casts longing eyes toward Statesboro, Georgia, and Betty Rathbone is deserting us for Massachusetts. The rest of us wil be scattered around someplace in Florida.

Mrs. MacCaughey is giving us a good start on the holidays with a Christmas party at her house tonight.

Merry Christmas is so much merrier after exams are over!

SIGMA PHI SEZ

The Sigma Phi house has had a very studious aspect lately — tests and term papers are almsot due!

Saturday night Sigma Phi gave a dance at the Sanlando Country club, honoring pledges. Besides the active and alumnae members of Sigma Phi, the guests included the Orlando Alumnae Chapter of Pi Beta Phi, Mr. and Mrs. Bingham, Miss Gartland, Mrs. Holme and Dean and Mrs. Anderson.

Glad Wilkinson came up from New Smyrna for the dance Saturday. Sigma Phi takes this opportunity of wishing all the members of the student body and faculty a very Merry Chrismas and a Happy New Year.

GAMMA PHI BETA

We are glad to announce Miss Helen M. Edwards as a patroness.

Miss Lucille Pipkorn, a '28 alumna, is assistant-clerk at the Hotel Sarasota, Sarasota, Florida.

Our pledges entertained at a waffle breakfast Sunday morning in honor for the K. E., Sigma Phi, and Alpha Omega pledges. If we hear any recommendations on their cooking, we may try them out ourselves, sometime.

Martha Schanck is returning to Hightstown, New Jersey, Friday for the Christmas vacation; Margaret Chapman is planning on spending Christmas in Richmond, Va., and Virginia Ralston will spend the holidays in New York City.

Mrs. Bueno entertained Alpha Mu with a Kid Party Wednesday evening. Everyone had a great time opening their Christmas gifts. Here's to 'em and plenty more!

Dot and Boots have been unduly dignified all week as a result of their heart-rending efforts to make the proper impression at the Sorosis club last Tuesday. Both had to read their original poems, so have resolved not to write any more.

Gamma Phi feels justly proud that five of the new R. L. S. members are from her ranks.

And did you go to Grace Cardwell's recital in the "Rec" Hall at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon?

Anyway . . . "A Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

ALPHA OMEGA ANTICS

Alpha Omega Sorority takes pleasure in announcing as an active member, Phyllis Walter of Orlando.

A surprise shower was given by the sorority members for Nadine Wright Meek on Thursday afternoon. The honoree was showered by gifts tied with red and green ribbons to an umbrella under which she was seated. During the afternoon bridge and dancing were enjoyed.

After a week spent at the House Dot and Auntie were still not homesick. Perhaps it was the satsuma feasts, hot chocolate, and joke contests that kept them here. We surely enjoyed having them anyhow.

Wish we could have heard Flora read in Daytona last Thursday evening. It must have been good because we saw her costumes and heard snatches of her readings as she practiced them in the living room.

A big Christmas party is to be given at the House Wednesday with a Christmas tree and holly and mistletoe decorations. Dear old Santa has promised presents for everyone.

Let's all dig up our rompers again, buy a lollypop, and be kids at the W. A. A. party Friday night.

Alpha Omega wishes you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

"DUKES" GIVE DINNER

Last Friday evening the "Dukes" gave their inaugural dinner-party at the Colonial Club Inn, near Kissimmee. The color scheme of green and red was carried out in the decoration of the entire first floor of the colonial mansion. The dinner, besides being a masterpiece of culinary art, was a symphony in red and green. Between the well-served courses and after coffee in the great drawing-room the guests danced, and Mr. Levitt gave a delightful exhibition of New York East Side dancing.

Among those present were Professor and Mrs. L. H. Jenks, the Misses Alice Burdett, Louise Shinn, Betty Tone, Louise Brett, Eleanor Barkdull, Lottie Turner, Miriam Sprague, Evelyn Green, Lucille Tolson, Barbara Daley, and Messrs. Currie Berry, Horace Miller, John Sinclair, Harry Orr, Harvey Gee, Kenneth Wallis, George Orr, Donald McKercher, David McCallum, and Robert Levitt.

KAPPA ALPHA

The chapter wishes the faculty and student body a Christmas vacation that will be full of cheer.

We were sorry to have Mrs. Gage, our house chaperone, leave us last Saturday. She heard the call of her Cleveland home and there will give her daughters and sons the "mother cheer" that makes Christmas real. Mrs. Gage will return to us after Christmas.

Many of our men will remain on the campus during the holidays. We hope that the mailman won't break a leg bringing in our presents and such.

Bill Reid and Ralph Scanlon are going back to Cleveland. These two have been receiving letters from the "Cork Hill Gang," begging them to come home and help drive off the enemy. It seems that the enemy have had the best of the snowball fights so far. The boys are getting in trim by "pegging" oranges at various objects.

The final exams should at least develop our hands — to the extent that we be immune to writers cramps while writing out holiday greetings.

Last Thursday Mrs. Gage entertained for the sisters and father of President Hamilton Holt. The Misses Holt and Judge Holt are here for the winter from Woodstock, Conn. Mrs. Gage entertained them for us.

KAPPA PHI SIGMA

We also have some cold weather sidelights down here—John and Hank reading over the furnace outlet, Ronald parking his Phord at the top of the hill so he can start by coasting.

Don French is repairing wavelengths in Orlando every evening.

The end of the term is approaching, or something—Pep is studying.

CLOVERLEAF CAUSERIE

With the recent cold wave came a violent epidemic of dancing. A little strenuous exercise tends to keep one warm, of course.

And marshmallow toasting seems to be the most popular indoor sport.

If we insist on improving the dormitory, why not install waffle irons in every room—feet-toasters in all the beds—maid service or alarm clock for those who over-sleep breakfast—and last, but far from least, rediators that radiate.

Since the bleachers have been deserted on account of the weather, Chase is better represented in our hall. More power to you, boys!

LAKESIDE RIPPLES

Christmas is coming and so is vacation: Lakeside is all agog with holiday excitement. Prosperous-looking green checks are arriving for tickets home and that looks like train rides "sure 'nough."

The Lakesiders are going to do some real travelling this vacation to such far away parts of the earth as Texas, Oklahoma, Kentucky, South Carolina and Alabama.

Clara Adolph had a bad fall down the Knowles Hall steps. Watch your step, Clara!

Thelma Cawood and Sarah Huey played in the Winter Park Symphony Sunday afternoon.

We have two excellent business women at our house. Iverne bought a juicy red apple from Frances for three two-cent stamps.

CHASE HALL

We have appointed a committee to enquire into Jenkins' frequent trips to Daytona Beach.

One unsolved mystery is why, when a dance is over at mid-night, it takes Rusty Moody until three o'clock to seek his down couch.

Orr and company have prepared the ancestral chariot for its flying trip to Chicago and points north. They plan to dine upon tangerines and free air on the trip north and live on the memories of their New Year's dinner on the return trip.

Chase Hall wishes everyone a Merry Christmas, even the professors who gave low marks, and expects everyone to return for the new term with their Christmas tie and ruined digestions.

STUDENTS OF EXPRESSION IN INTERESTING RECITAL

Wednesday morning, December 12, the students of Mrs. Grey's class in Principles of Expression gave a delightful program before a group of 30 guests.

The class room was artistically decorated in pine branches and poinsettias. To follow out the red and green Christmas colors, bells were hung in the windows, bunches of holly and tall candles were placed on tables and desks.

The program given was:

1. Reyle Cycle ..... Carolyne Heine
2. Original Sonnets .. Mrs. Leimbach
3. Reading ..... Frances Arnold
4. Group of Impersonations ..... Miss Green
5. Word Pictures .... Alvera Barbour
6. Monologue ..... Elizabeth Treat

GLEE CLUB AND LITTLE THEATRE GIVE JOINT PROGRAM

The Rollins Glee club made its first appearance Thursday evening, December 13, at the Recreation Hall when it cooperated with the Little Theatre Workshop in presenting an evening's entertainment. This program took the place of the regular Tuesday evening lecture.

The presentation, which was well received by an appreciative audience included the following:

Ol' Carolina ..... Glee Club
Firefly ..... Glee Club
Songs Beloved ..... Glee Club
Readings ..... Little Theatre
Little Cotton Dolly .. Male Chorus
Liza Lady ..... Male Chorus
Pantomime ..... Little Theatre

The Little Theatre will make its first outside appearance in Orlando for the Princeton School Parent-Teachers association tonight. "Rosalind," of last Friday's bill will be repeated.

everything that comes their way. In Tracy, Proctor, James, and G. Pickard, Bailey has some great material that is pushing the first team boys dangerously for positions. Graham, Banks, Ewing, and Bob James will also bear watching.

The Christmas season may be a period of vacation for some folks but the Bailey-men have no prospects of idleness. Beginning with Dec. 18 an extensive training schedule has been arranged. On Dec. 30, the Tars start in a practice tour that will carry them to Ft. Myers, Tampa, St. Pete, and Avon Park. The opposition has been selected in an effort to give the boys the stiffest competition possible.

Immediately after the holidays the Tars will travel to Coral Gables for the first college tilt of the season, with the Miami Hurricanes. The first home contest comes on January 6, in a return go with Miami. The remainder of the tentative schedule includes four games with both Southern and Stetson, and a lone struggle with the Univerity of Florida. A trip to the Carolinas concludes the program.

If the boys finish the season at the top of the pile a jaunt to the S. I. A. A. tournament is practically assured.
